

Dear Hatfield,

As we enter the second week of school closures, please remember that we are all in this together. We are working hard within our Hatfield family in preparation for the upcoming days, as well as collaborating with colleagues across the district.

As a reminder, the primary mode of communication at this time is coming from the district. An abundance of information has been passed along already, with more likely on the horizon. Should you have questions, please visit the district's website by utilizing the following links: NPSD Resource Center and NPSD FAQ. North Penn will update these pages for additional COVID-19 updates, as well as responses to frequently asked questions. Another option is to e-mail schoolclosure@npenn.org with questions.

Next, to stay up-to-date with Hatfield Happenings, be sure to follow us on Twitter using the handle @NP_hatfield. A variety of staff will be checking in over the time in which school doors are closed, with many reading nightly bedtime stories for our children.

Additionally, for those wishing to help their child potentially better understand COVID-19, please check out another resource here: SocialNarrative.

Lastly, as Home & School (H&S) aims to continue designing a yearbook, they are asking for pictures of students to be used in the yearbook during this time away from school. Those interested can either e-mail them to treasurer.hhsa@gmail.com, or consider posting them to the H&S Facebook page.

Keep soaring above and beyond,

Wes Heinel
Principal
